FRIENDS ACQUISITIONS

From their inception the Friends have contributed to the Crawford Art Gallery and enhanced the Gallery's Collection. Their tangible presence can be felt from the moment you fix your eye upon the first artwork that greets you at the doorway, Vivienne Roche's 'Viapori Bell', to the radiating light that falls upon the stairwell from James Scanlon's stained-glass window, 'Lonradh'.

The Friends most recent acquisition James Mahony, "The Official Opening of The National Exhibition of the Arts, Manufactures and Products of Ireland", Cork" paints a historic picture of Cork and its buildings while Friends publication of Vera Ryan's 'The Arts and Crafts Movement 1880s -1920s' completes that picture.

Members subscriptions & participation in events provides funds to the Friends Legacy Fund which are used for future acquisitions and publications within the Gallery and support local emerging artists through the Friends participation in The Emerge Award.
